REMARKS.

That co-operation among pupils, parents and school officials is the only method whereby even a small measure of success may obtain, is easily made plain by putting in force such a method by those vitally interested.

In very many instances the parents of pupils are more thoroughly acquainted with the capacities and abilities of their children than are the instructors to whom they are sent to be mentally trained and developed, and, although teachers may in an indefinite time size the capabilities of his or her scholars, still suggestions that may be made by any of the parents who have so intimate a knowledge of their children will be of great value to their teachers, and in a great majority of cases these suggestions will be received in the spirit in which they are given.

Community interest is invaluable in determining the future educational and moral qualifications of children in any district where such interest is made manifest by frequent meetings of parents, pupils, teachers and school officials, to discuss methods for the improvement of the school and its surroundings.

Indiscriminate criticism of teachers and school officials, when made in the presence of pupils, destroys the good influence of the teachers and causes a lack of proper respect for the officials, who have the best interests of the scholars in mind. Complaints as to the administration of school affairs should not be made a matter of neighborhood gossip, but parents and others not satisfied with the manner in which schools are conducted, and having grievous complaints to make, should go to the right officials, and in a manly or womanly way try to have the failing or injustice on the part of the teacher or official corrected. Teachers and school officials are generally very receptive when suggestions are made by those wishing for a betterment of school conditions.

In making this report it is a pleasure to say that the work done in the schools the past year has been of excellent quality, and there are many cases of marked improvement in the work of individual pupils. Other pupils whose work has not been quite satisfactory have received special help in branches in which the general instruction has not been readily assimilated, with the hope that by this means they may be ready for advancement.

The school attendance, on the whole, has shown a slight improvement over former years, which would probably be more noticeable this year but for the epidemic of whooping cough, which gained entrance into nearly every family on Orr's and Bailey Islands, having pupils. Printed forms, asking for reasons for persistent absence from school should be sent to parents, together with quotations from truant laws, giving penalties for not conforming to the law. Persistent cases of truancy should be looked up by Truant Officers, and such officials should be aided in their duties by Superintendent and committee.

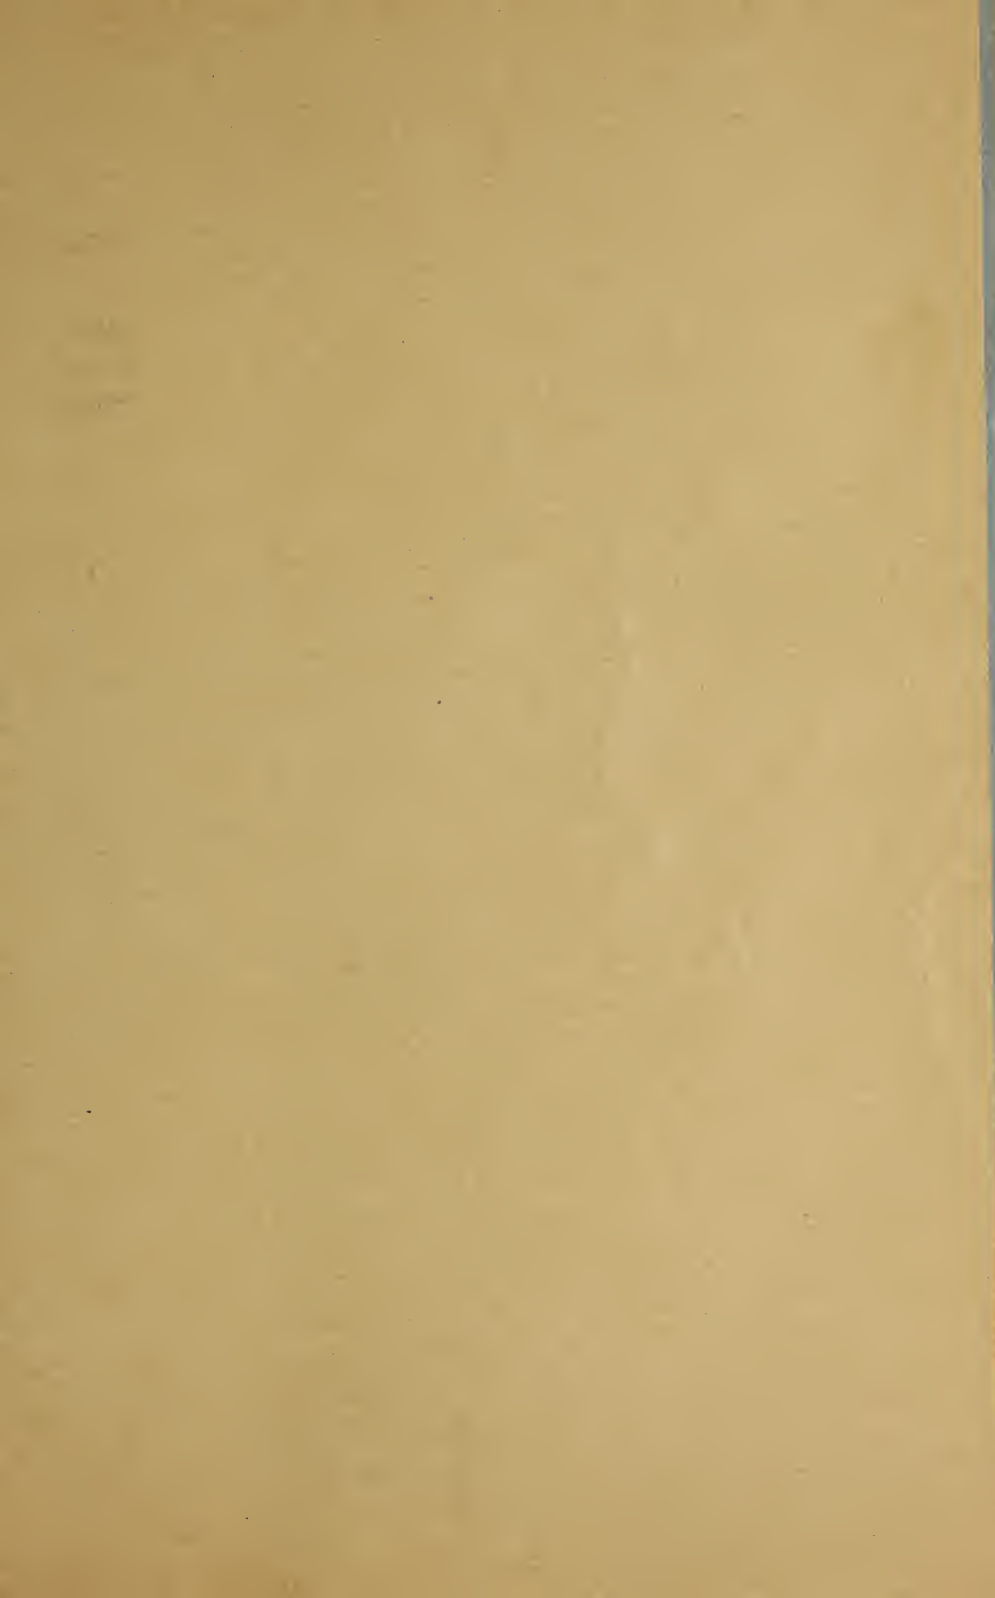

During the year, necessary repairs have been made to school buildings throughout the town by the School Committee and some permanent improvements added to the equipment of several schoolhouses. A set of encyclopedias has been presented to the school at North Harpswell by the Trustees of Harpswell Academy. A number of fine engravings have been hung on the walls of the West Harpswell Grammar room, procured through the efforts of Mr. Weymouth and his pupils. New histories have been introduced to take the place of the Barnes' series, which were entirely out of date. A supplementary geographical reader for all the grades and rural schools has been added to our list of books, and has been received with much favor by both teachers and pupils.

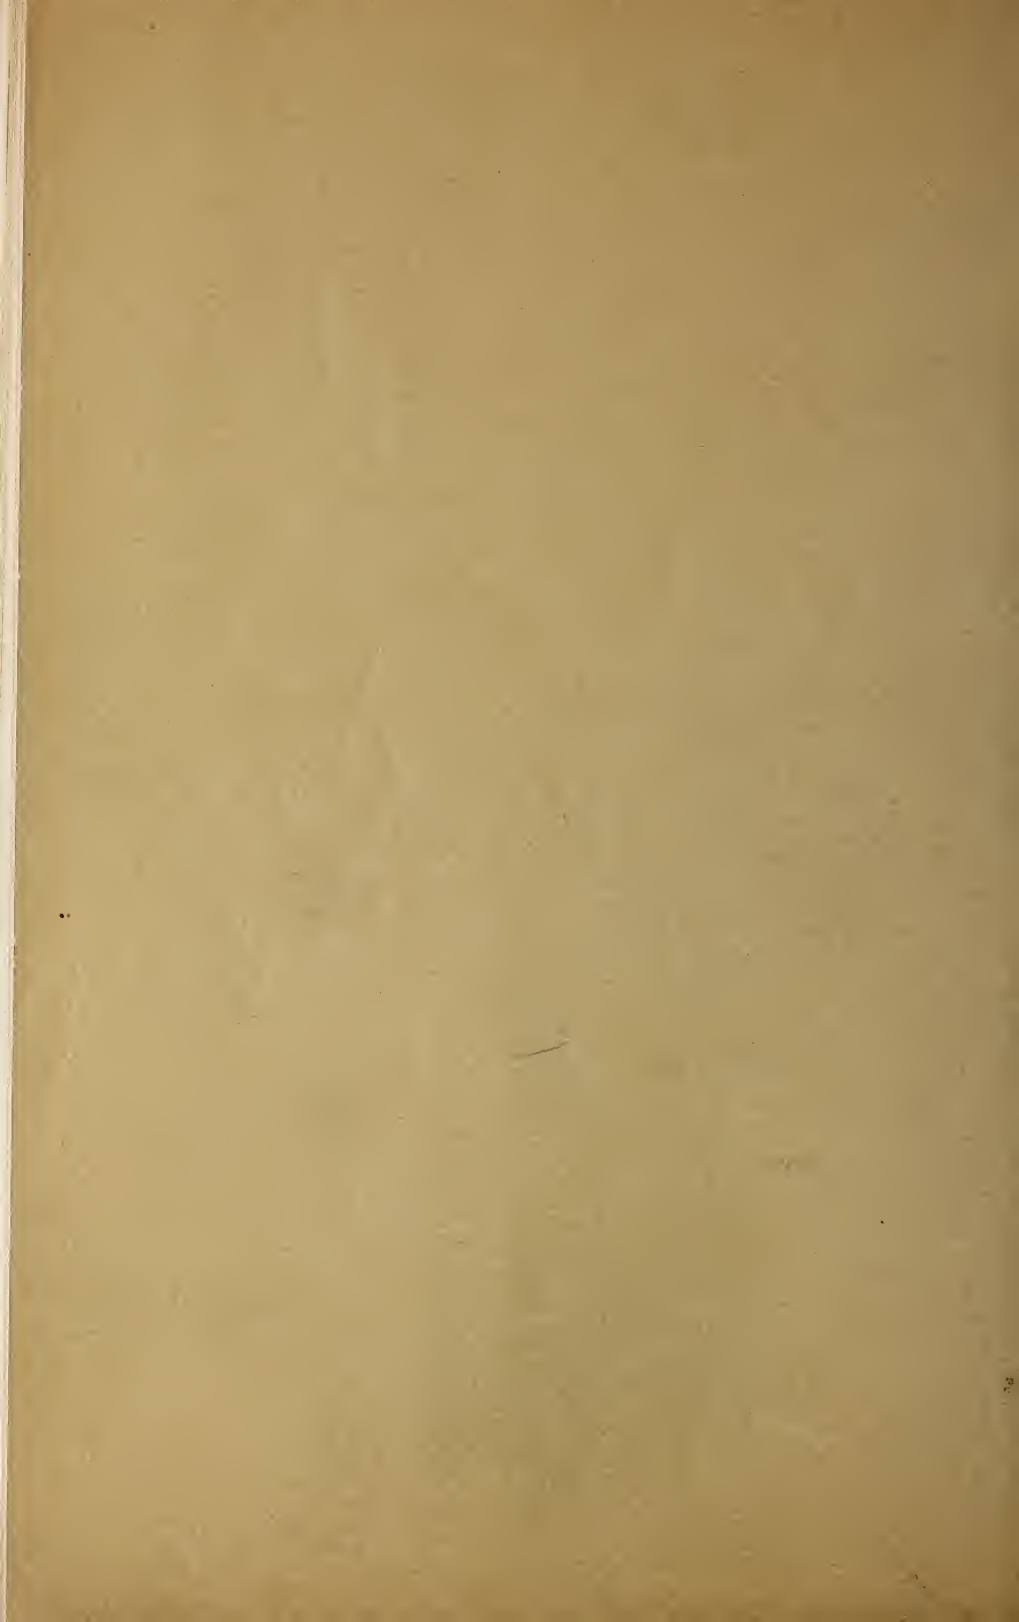

I wish to express my appreciation of the many courtesies extended by the townspeople, committee and teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. BROWN,

Superintendent of Schools.

The old Latin axiom, "Non scholæ sed vitæ discimus," (Not for school but for life we learn), is as potent today as it was two hundred years ago in proclaiming the reason for conducting our schools along practical lines.

Four per cent. of the pupils of our town are able to attend secondary schools in other places, as their parents can aid them in a financial way, while ninety-six per cent. of those completing the nine grades in our schools are turned out into the world wholly unprepared to meet the strenuous competition existing in business conditions at the present time.

The grades in our schools are so mapped that our children on completing them attain to as high a standard of elementary education as does the average pupil in any country community, but the finishing of the ninth grade lands the student at a point where his education for practical purposes should begin.

No scholar that graduates from our elementary course has even a fundamental idea of the methods of transacting business as it is conducted today, nor is the education we give them sufficient to enable them to understand commercial usages.

A tenth grade should be added to our school system, to aid those whose school-days are ended when they pass out of our schools into the bread winner's line, so they can take up the work that may be handed out to them in a confident manner.

This proposed additional grade should be given over to the study of commercial arithmetic, bookkeeping, business methods, elementary business law, business forms and letter writing. The cost of the maintenance of this tenth grade would be nominal, but the benefit to be derived therefrom will compensate the taxpayer in the pleasure given him in knowing he has granted his children an opportunity to prepare themselves for future usefulness and success in life.

This is not a visionary scheme but a proposition that should be carefully considered by our citizens who have the future welfare of our young men and women at heart.

A law enacted by our last legislature making it obligatory upon all persons who are to teach at the beginning of the school year 1915, to procure teacher's certificates from the State Superintendent of Schools, will cause a raise in the salaries of those competent to teach. It will be well to give this matter some thought prior to voting on an appropriation for our common schools.

Our teachers in the past year have labored assiduously in advancing the interests of pupils placed under their charge and to a large extent the scholars have heartily co-operated with their instructors in making pleasant the work assigned them.

Our Committee has made some much-needed repairs on the school buildings throughout the town, and the monies thus expended have been expended in an economical manner. The appearance of the houses repaired, painted and renovated reflects credit on the Committee for the thorough manner in which the work has been done. The West Harpswell building needs painting outside, tinting and varnishing inside and some minor repairs.

The Bailey Island and Cundy's Harbor buildings should be painted on the outside, and some shingling should be done on the Cundy's Harbor house. The Orr's Island building needs a new floor in the primary room and the building should be painted on the outside. New blackboards are needed in several of the houses.

I wish to extend thanks for the many expressions of kindness shown by parents, teachers, pupils and Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

C. F. BROWN,
Supt. of Schools.

The school census of 1914 shows a school population, 501.

The teachers' registers indicate that of the above number of pupils 347 attended school at some time during the year.

By the careful and conscientious labors of the Committee, Superintendent, teachers and a majority of the parents of pupils, our schools have made thorough advancement during the last school year. By diligent application in several instances scholars have made remarkable progress. Concentration of the pupil's mind on the work in the school-room is the only method by which high scholarship can be attained.

Constant and punctual attendance at all sessions of school and respect and observance of rules adopted by instructors will produce both pleasure and profit. Mental and moral discipline are the stepping stones to the future success of all the students who are now preparing themselves for the strenuous battle that will come to them when they enter the bread winner's line. Insubordination on the part of the scholar, and a disposition on the part of the parent to uphold disobedient acts will be disastrous to the future welfare of the child, and a menace to the immediate community in which the pupil is a resident.

With the exception of one or two schools, the average attendance of pupils registered has been high. Two of our schools on Great Island have nearly a perfect record in the matter of attendance and punctuality. The teachers throughout our town have been thoroughly qualified for their work and in nearly all cases have labored assiduously to advance the moral and educational welfare of the children placed under their instruction.

Repairs have been made on school-buildings where needed. The schoolhouse at West Harpswell has been painted on the outside, and varnished and tinted on the inside and has a much improved appearance.

The schoolhouse at Cundy's Harbor has been shingled, and painted on the outside and is in fine condition.

The schoolhouses at Orr's and Bailey Islands have been painted on the outside, and a floor placed in the primary room at Orr's.

At the examination for secondary school tuition certificates, three of the applicants were successful.

The law requiring State certification of all teachers, which went into effect the first of last July, has raised the scale of wages demanded by teachers, and future appropriations for our common schools will have to be made to meet this advance in salaries, or the length of the school year will necessarily be shortened.

In the work of superintending the schools, I have appreciated the favors and courtesies extended me by people throughout the town, and the aid given me by the Committee has been highly valued.

C. F. BROWN,
Supt. of Schools.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

I have examined the accounts of the selectmen and treasurer of the town of Harpswell for the year 1914 and certify to the correctness of the same.

A resume of the work done in the schools of our town shows that thorough advancement has been made under the instruction provided, where the pupils have worked in co-operation with the teachers.

Efficiency is the watchword along all lines of endeavor.

It cannot be attained by the way of least resistance, but by the road of close application, thoroughness and great mental exertion.

Disobedience of the laws of right conduct by the scholar, and disrespect for the teacher that has the welfare of the pupil at heart will result in unpreparedness to occupy any position of trust and emolument.

Responsiveness on the part of the pupil will invariably make the good result of the labor of the conscientious instructor visible to the most casual observer.

A stricter application of the truancy laws will bring profit to our community.

Necessary repairs have been made on the schoolhouses throughout the town.

The inside of the house at Harpswell Center has been thoroughly renovated and its appearance reflects credit on those that planned and completed the work under Mr. Hackett's instruction. A much needed addition to the house at Bailey Island for the storage of fuel has been made at a small cost.

Mr. Coombs, the member of the committee for Great Island, has had several of the houses in his district shingled and put in thorough repair at a cost that shows excellent judgment on his part in providing the labor and material.

A renewal of the blackboards at the Cranberry Horn house is much needed, and some minor repairs in other parts of the town will call for a small appropriation for supplies and repairs.

It gives me great pleasure to extend hearty thanks to the members of the committee and residents of the town that have aided me in many ways in conducting the affairs connected with our schools.

Under no conditions will I be a candidate for re-election.

C. F. BROWN,
Supt. of Schools.

After a careful examination of all bills at the selectmen's office, I find they compare with all orders given, and the sums paid by the treasurer properly accounted for.
